PRESS RELEASE

IPMA Young Crew Announces Finalists for the 2010 Young Project Manager Award

September 24, 2010: IPMA Young Crew, the premier global organization dedicated to supporting future leaders in project management, today announced the finalists for the 2010 IPMA Young Project Manager Award. IPMA Young Crew will honor three outstanding, global project managers who have demonstrated significant accomplishments early in their careers. The winner for the award will be announced at the 2010 IPMA Young Crew Workshop Gala Dinner at the Hilton Istanbul Hotel in Istanbul, Turkey.

Introduced in 2006 at the IPMA Young Crew conference in Shanghai, China, the IPMA Young Project Manager Award recognizes rising talent in the project and program management industries by honoring young project managers that have demonstrated invaluable impact to the profession and for the companies for whom they work, and are on the fast track to becoming project leaders and influencers on an international scale.

"We received the largest number of applications ever for this year's award." says Jhaymee S. Wilson, IPMA Young Crew Management Board Member and Coordinator for the award. "We are inspired by the high caliber of our candidates, and we have no doubts that among these names are some of our next great leaders."

The finalists for the 2010 IPMA Young Project Manager Award are:

Judit Hernandez Sanchez
